

Homeschooling the College-Bound Student

Program for parents homeschooling through high school

THIS PROGRAM addresses the principal concerns parents have about homeschooling through high school:

- ♦ The high school curriculum—all about credits, assigning grades, AP tests and scores, college courses, online courses, and courses just done at home.
- ♦ Applying to college—transcripts & record keeping, testing, the common app, admissions and homeschooling; also college visits, interviews, what to consider when choosing a school, merit aid vs. need-blind, early action vs early decision, and more.

There will also be time for Q&A.

Fee: $ 150. — includes printed materials and workbook. Payment of your fee ensures your space in the program.

About the facilitator

Prior to being a home-educator, Diane Speed was a management consultant, designing training programs in team-building, sales, and software. She has been a home educator for more than twenty years. Using an academic, college-prep program of her own design, she tutored two children from pre-school through high school. When applying to college, both her students received significant merit aid—one was awarded a full ride (tuition, room, & board), the other ninety percent of tuition—and both targeted completing college debt-free. In Connecticut, Diane has been a pioneer of the homeschooling community: in 2001 she founded the Classical Kids Network, the homeschool support group she led for more than fifteen years, and in 2007 she launched the website dasicalkids.net to enhance its services to all members. In 2014, she co-founded with her husband, Roy Speed, HS College-Bound, to better serve the needs of families homeschooling through the high school years.

UPCOMING PROGRAM

Live online series

THREE SUNDAY AFTERNOONS:

4:00 – 5:30 pm EST

WHAT YOU'LL GET

Everything you need to—

- ♦ create and manage your high school curriculum;
- ♦ generate a high school transcript and supporting documentation;
- ♦ plan for and complete college applications.

PLUS: Hands-on templates for all the most important documentation, useful websites, guidelines, and more.

You'll walk away with tools that will save you hundreds of hours of work and help present your student in the best possible light.

I do reviews and social media promotion for many homeschool products. I have looked at some of the resources available to homeschoolers preparing for college such as webinars, membership websites, and books. The knowledge you share and the materials you provide are by far the best I've come across! It feels complete. I don't feel like I have to go searching for more information!
